

SUBSCRIBE HERE

Tidings: Stories from Canada's Oceans Protection Plan

Winter 2024

Welcome to the first issue of Tidings for the year 2024! We're excited to keep on developing Tidings to not only reflect the ongoing work of the Ocean Protections Plan, but to ensure it is a valuable information tool for our subscribers. If you have any feedback, questions, story ideas or anything you'd like to see more of, feel free to reach out to Tidings editor, Joanna Tymkiw, at any time.

In this issue:

- Join NASP Aircraft Services: Exciting opportunity for surveillance officers!
- NASP Surveillance Officers: we get the lowdown on their fascinating jobs
- Marine Training Program: Lauryn Delaney's unconventional career voyage
- Save this page: OPP announcements!
- Our oil spill page is now live!
- Our first ever Atlantic and Quebec Dialogue Forums
- Closing the loop: What We Heard report for Marine Pollution Preparedness, Response, and Recovery

Join NASP Aircraft Services: Exciting opportunity for surveillance officers!

If you share a passion for protecting oceans, marine life, and communities, this opportunity is for you!

Continue reading about NASP...

NASP Surveillance Officers' bird's-eye view of our beautiful country

We recently caught up with two members of the National Aerial Surveillance Program (NASP) team to get the lowdown on their fascinating jobs:

- Tonya Ste. Marie
- Barry Wood

Embark on a maritime adventure

If you've ever dreamed of being on the ocean and getting paid for it, this could be your chance! Check out the new Marine Training Program webpage if you are looking to apply for funding and training that will lead you to an exciting and rewarding career at sea.

Continue reading for Lauryn's story...

Other news

- Save this page: OPP announcements!
Project announcements, funding opportunities, and partnerships dedicated to safeguarding our oceans from shore to shore.
- Our oil spill page is now live!
Our interactive page is a must see for those needing crucial information, from reporting an oil spill to how they're prevented in the first place.
- Our first ever Atlantic and Quebec Dialogue Forums
- Closing the loop: What We Heard report for Marine Pollution Preparedness, Response, and Recovery
Earlier this year, Transport Canada shared with you the Marine Pollution Preparedness, Response and Recovery Discussion Paper. This paper proposed to develop a national integrated system to manage marine pollution incidents that involve oil and/or hazardous and noxious substances. A What We Heard Report (WWH) is now available that summarizes many of the key points from submissions received from coast-to-coast-to-coast.